author's full name: Bret Godsun

--complete book title: How To Think Like God: The Secrets of God, Initiation, The Illuminati, Religion, Secret Societies, Psychology, Mind Control & Everything Else!

--a one-paragraph bio: Fed up with the status quo and trusting his instincts, Bret Godsun quit his job at a prestigious Ivy League university and went on the run from local authorities, in order to embark on an incredible journey that led to his writing of "How To Think Like God". Godsun was formerly a very popular hip hop DJ, only retiring once he realized that being a part of the music industry was not the legacy that he wanted to leave for future generations. In hopes of becoming a better person and helping to uplift his community and world, he became a Freemason and began to write extensively about his deep knowledge of the occult and esoteric realms. "How To Think Like God" is the result of Godsun's dedicated studies and considered to be his thesis and magnum opus.

1. What really inspired you to write your book, to force you from taking an idea or experience and conveying it into a book?

Following my ancient inner voice and guide, I have always found myself carefully observing the present world around me as if my duty was the role of a sacred watcher. This book was born as a result of my life's observations and research. In my destined role appointed by nature, I have learned how much the masses have been misled, and in turn, I have also realized how greatly they need a voice to speak up and help them navigate through the present chaotic times so that they can ultimately improve their living condition.

2. What is it about and whom do you believe is your targeted reader?

My book is about the mysteries of the ancient times and our present day, how we got here, and what we can do to enable ourselves to fully take our power back from corrupt forces who complicitly masquerade behind: (1) a dishonest narrative of history that has severely damaged the present society, (2) a completely discombobulated law and legal system and unjust societal hierarchy that is reinforced with essentially a "make-believe" debt slave economy, (3) assumed and abused titles of so-called nobility and positions of authority. To all those self-righteous Americans who have sworn an oath, yet constantly violate the Constitution, this book is especially for you.

Nobody has written a book close to the masterpiece that I have written and it is a sublime honor and privilege to say so. My targeted reader is anybody who is living in state-sponsored, media driven, indoctrinated amnesia of the moment; which means just about everyone. This book is for the dreamers and the doers, the ones that want to live out their dreams and have their heaven on earth right now.

3. What do you hope will be the everlasting thoughts for readers who finish your book? What should remain with them long after putting it down?

I hope that my book will transmit some of my Light (knowledge) to the reader and alter their course in life towards greater meaning and destinations. My book will help them see through dense fog of illusion with clarity. Knowing, Wisdom, Strength, Faith, Hope, Inspiration, and Imagination are some of the jewels that will forever stick with my readers. All in all, my book will help readers realize their true value and will train them to transfer that value back into the world to make a real difference and accomplish endeavors greater than they ever imagined.

4. What advice or words of wisdom do you have for fellow writers?

Wake up. Get serious about the world and your role in it. Learn the importance of energy, words, and actions; and allow that to be the catalyst that results in you contributing masterful works to this very important experience that we live in and share with each other. Focus less on fantasy and entertainment, and concentrate on learning about the world, it's history and how history has created the problems of the present. Help nature and fix this beautiful world. Use your voice to create an ever-lasting legacy that the future generations will benefit from. Stop feeding the "Beast" and reclaim your Divine Heritage (Inheritance) from our ancestors.

5. What trends in the book world do you see and where do you think the book publishing industry is heading?

I see an incredibly lackluster book industry, as far as authors and publishers go. People would rather make a quick buck than make a useful contribution to the world. The book industry will start paying close attention to books like mine and authors like me who are using their Fire and Truth to wake up the sleeping masses.

6. What great challenges did you have in writing your book?

I did not have any challenges while writing my book. It flowed out of me as if I were plugged into an ancient oracle.

7. If people can only buy one book this month, why should it be yours?

If the people want to learn how greatly society has put the blinders on them and is draining their vital energy and creative powers like a blood-sucking parasite, I strongly suggest the reader pick up "The Most Dangerous and Enlightening book of the century"! They will be forever grateful that they did so. Check out HowToThinkLikeGodBook.com to pick up your copy!
